COGSO needs to know what effect the Federal Intervention Legislation is having on you, your children and your community.

COGSO is preparing a study and report on the effects of the Intervention for parents of children in Indigenous communities.

The report will help us to make decisions about the work we are doing in our two projects for Indigenous community schools, parents and teachers.

(Strong Schools Strong Communities funded by DEST)
(Parents and Teachers Working Together funded by DEET)

The report will go to all School Councils.

It will be put up on our website, and forwarded to all Northern Territory and Australian Government members, and other interested people.
